“ Grandma, I love you so much and, selfishly, I wish you were still here, I have so much more to say to you and wish we could visit one more time. I knew your time here on earth was coming to a close, but I didn't think it'd be this soon. I do know without a shadow of a doubt that you're happier now and so full of joy up there in Heaven. I know that you've finally reunited with your loved ones that have gone before you...grandpa Dan, grandpa Chuck, aunt Jane, Christopher and so many more of your loved ones. I'm sure they welcomed you with warm hugs and smiles. You're finally at peace grandma, free from what ailed you on earth. I will always cherish all of our time together and forever be thankful that you were able to see Braelee blossom into this beautiful young lady that she's now becoming. I remember our dinners together, just the two of us, and how we would come over and sit on your back porch or in the house and just talk. I also know how much both you and I love sweets, (those raspberry jelly donuts you loved grandma, I bet they have yummy treats like that were you are now, maybe something even better ☐). I'll love you forever and always grandma. Until we meet again, I will cherish our sweet memories we made together and know that you're with God and all of our loved ones and happier than ever💜 Rest in eternal peace grandma 🕊️

“ I love you so much mom. My heart is broken, I feel lost. It's going to be hard moving on without you here, you've always been such a big part of my life. I am thankful for the many wonderful memories of you. I will cherish them all, keeping them close to my heart. Thank you mom for everything. I feel truly blessed that you were my mother. You will be missed. I find comfort knowing you are at peace and with the Lord, and with all your dear loved ones who were waiting for you. I know we will all be together again mom - someday - until then I will carry you in my heart. I love you mom forever.
God Bless your soul
