“ I was so fortunate to have had the opportunity to visit with George Cameron by phone and e-mail on several occasions in the two years prior to his illness. To me, George was a perfect example of good karma: he lived near and was the primary caregiver of his mother in her later years, and then was in turn loved and cared for by his dear friend, Fran and some other friends during his recent illness. I miss sending him e-mail greetings with cat and kitten themes. How fortunate I am to have had these opportunities. Diane
