

Lori Ann Loy

March 24, 1962 - October 1, 2024

Lori Gallo (ex-married name Loy) passed away on 10/1/24 from heart complications. She was born March 24, 1962 in Atlanta, Georgia to Anthony Joseph Gallo Jr. and Lois Jane Wesbecher. She attended Nurnberg HS, Woodbridge HS, University of Vermont and George Mason University. She was a military dependent and was fortunate to live in a number of places in the States as well as overseas. She got to travel extensively both as a youngster and in her later years. She lived much of her life in the Northern Virginia area, working in property management and county government. Upon retiring she moved south to Fleming Island, FL and then Wilmington, NC as she loved the warm weather and beaches. Lori was out-going (just ask all her teachers and friends). She loved new experiences and adventures, cooking, reading, all types of music, and especially the beach! She loved parties with family and friends and having fun!! She is preceded in death by both her parents. She is survived by her son, Caden Loy, the very best thing that ever happened to her and whom she loved more than anything in the world. Her sister Elizabeth Quattrone (Joseph), her brother Christopher Gallo (partner Karla), her niece Ali Morgan, and grand niece Franki, as well as aunts, uncles, countless cousins, and her BFF, Lana Zylka, and of course, Cooper, her rambunctious, faithful fur baby! A Celebration of Life will be held in Northern Virginia for family and friends to have fun, reminisce, and honor Lori's life. The location, date, and time of the Celebration will be forthcoming in the next week.

“ My husband and I first met Tony and Lois Gallo when we were stationed in Mannheim, Germany from 1962 to 1965. My husband passed in 2007, then Lois Gallo passed, then Tony Gallo passed and then their oldest daughter Lori Loy. My heart goes out in sympathy to their younger daughter Elizabeth and their younger son, Christopher. I am not sure if Elizabeth will remember who I am and that's okay. I am now 85 years of age and realize how fast our years go by.
Sincerely,
Lucy Paone

“ Lori was my college roommate for one year before she transferred from uVM. We were complete opposites except we both smoked. She was kind of iconic. When Julia Roberts uses a safety pin to unglue her mascara in "Charlie Wilson's War" I immediately thought of Lori for whom this treacherous technique was part of her daily makeup routine. Years later, when I read "Bergdorf Blondes" the main character is referred to as a "champagne bubble of a girl" I also thought of Lori. I think that embodies her of twinkly eyes, mile deep dimples and charm to spare. We connected a little on Facebook over the years and I am truly sad to hear this sad news and send my condolences to her family, friends and especially her punk. Rest in peace, girl.

“ My heart is broken💔 What a beautiful soul! She was my bestie 1977-78 when we lived in the same neighborhood & went to Nurenberg H.S. together! She hasn't changed a bit in all these years - her beautiful smile & adorable dimples! So blessed to have known her. Prayers to all of her family and loved ones🙏

“ Lori was one of a kind. Some of the best traits anyone could hope for. I got to know her more while planning our reunions and hanging out at so many fun events in our "reunion" planning group. I am so very saddened that her life was cut short. Her son Caden needed her for a lifetime. I am so sorry to all her family and dear friends.
