

Nathan (Nate) Craig Holway, Jr.

March 28, 1955 - July 19, 2023

Nathan C. Holway, Jr. (Nate) was born in Chelsea, Massachusetts, to the late Nathan and Ann (Hall) Holway. Nate was predeceased by his sister, Susan Holway. He is survived by his beloved wife, Linda Holway (Parsons); son, N. Craig (Lynette) Holway III; sister, Linda (Carl) Vander Weide; nieces Rachel (Brian) Sherman; Susan (Donald) Wilbur; great nephews and great niece Nathan, Logan and Bethany Sherman.

Nate was proud to tell everyone that he earned the Eagle Scout award and one of his big accomplishments was the distinction of climbing Mt. Fuji twice, plus mentoring other Boy Scouts while living in the Philippines.

He graduated from Massachusetts Maritime Academy (MMA) in 1977 with a BS in Marine Engineering and was a U.S.C.G. Third Assistant Engineer, Steam & Diesel with Unlimited license.

Commander Nathan C. Holway served faithfully and honorably in the U.S. Naval Reserves for 27 years and will have a Military Honors Service.

He retired from Duke Energy after 20+ years as a Sr. Nuclear Engineer providing Engineering support for the Main Turbines, Reactor Feed Pump Turbines, EHC Mechanical System and all turbine related support systems.

The family will be receiving guests in the church Narthex after the service.

Tribute Wall

BR

“ Our hearts go out to Nate's family and friends on this very sad occasion. Rest in Pease!

Brian and Nancy Rhodes - August 15, 2023 at 03:04 PM

JB

“ Thanks for your service Nate!

Joseph and Nancy Beckley - August 10, 2023 at 09:21 PM

MM

“ Sorry to see you depart us Nate. You were a great friend and shipmate. God bless your family on this sad occasion. See you on the other side.

Mike Mahoney MENG"77" MMAA

Michael Mahoney - August 09, 2023 at 06:53 PM

TM

“ RIP fellow Engineer

Thomas McKenzie - August 08, 2023 at 12:02 PM

BD

“ Nate, you will be missed. We all love you buddy and we are praying for your family. Love you Butchie kid.

Butch Dias - August 07, 2023 at 04:39 PM