

Patricia Ann Peters

September 20, 1953 - December 7, 2018

Patricia Ann Peters, 65, of Wilmington, passed away on December 7, 2018. She is survived by her only child, Shannon McVaugh (Eric), her two grandchildren, Grayson and Riley and a number of other loving relatives and close friends. She was a caring mother, grandmother and loyal friend to all who knew her. Family was her most precious blessing.

Pat, daughter of Joseph and Theresa Cartlidge, started her life in Trenton, NJ. It was there that she put herself through college. She moved around to various parts of the county and abroad before settling in what became her home, Wilmington, NC. It is there that she found her calling with the Dames Inn, the historic Bergen-Carpender House in Carolina Heights. Known as the Queen of Halloween, she was truly one of a kind. She was a strong independent woman who wasn't afraid to let the "Jersey Girl" come out every now and again. Her quirky sense of humor and incredible wit were some of her defining qualities that we will all remember. Another aspect of Pat's character was selflessness. She would open her doors to any who needed help. She would always put others first, even in the most extreme circumstances. Being an organ donor, Pat's last kind act upon the Earth saved several others upon her final departure. We will always remember this kind, loving, and entertaining woman for who she was, and that is what she would want.

There will be a Celebration of Life for close friends and family on December 15 at the Dames Inn from 3:00-5:00 pm

“ I would like to send my deepest condolences to the Peters family for your loss Our loving God keeps us all in his memory and promises to reunite us with our loved ones. But until then we have to cope with our grief. Hopefully this verse from the Bible will bring a measure of comfort: Revelation 21:3,4.
