

Priscilla Yvonne Moore

July 29, 1939 - April 15, 2022

The beautifully intrepid Priscilla Yvonne Moore has peacefully passed away. Born Priscilla Yvonne Belcher in Louisville, Kentucky, she married her high school love, Malcolm Campbell Moore, and Kentucky was their three children's birthplace, Tim, Jason, and Phoebe.

In 1976, she and her family moved to Wilmington, North Carolina to open a small business and live by the ocean. Throughout the years, half of her heart and soul remained in Kentucky in the form of her parents, Lucille & Fred Belcher, her brothers Fred & Bobby, and her very best friends Judy & Kenny Rennirt, Sue & Donavon Meredith, and Sue & Bobby Cobb.

Regardless of distance, their relationship continued as there were numerous trips to and from NC, and several "girl's trips" to exciting destinations where they bonded and laughed as they once did as only high school buddies can do.

In North Carolina, Priscilla led a busy and joyous life. Priscilla and Malcolm prospered in making their small business a very successful endeavor while raising their three children. One of Priscilla's newfound passions was playing tennis. She was an active USTA competitor and became part of the tennis community where she formed many indelible friendships.

As their children grew into adults and formed their own families, Malcolm and Priscilla became grandparents to two girls, Jenna Alison Moore and Bella Kai Tseh, and at this time they became the beloved "Nana and GrandMac".

Nana and GrandMac always felt so fortunate that their three children chose partners who they loved and adored, and completed the Moore Family: Nancy Seitz, Elly Sato, Kelly Davidson, and Wayland Tseh.
