“ Hey Pawpaw, Its me Seth Barnes your grandson, I'm not 10 anymore I'm now 23 the last time I saw you I gave you a kiss the weekend that I was leaving for a cheerleading competition, I knew that you would not go when me and sissy was their and after we left that night you passed away, You was with me that whole day, God Do I wish that you was with MawMaw she so strong and just as beautiful as the day you left Not much has changed with her just her hair and she moved in with uncle Mike and aunt Emmy in charlotte

I just wish i could see you again and My goal is to come and see you someday at your grave, I don't know what I'm doing right now I will see you soon and just you are happy for me and the person I have become, I really stop going to church the day you died because at the time I felt like Jesus was taking something good away from me I just didn't understand why this would happen, I working on becoming a real estate agent just like mawmaw, so i can come see you in Arlington, Virginia, there is so much I have to tell you I graduated high school and went off the college and didn't finish because i didn't feel like I was smart enough, I moved to Atlanta 3 years ago back in 2021 sissy graduated high school and went to college and graduated even though she was the troubled on their is not a day that goes by that i don't think about you and I told mawmaw I want your flag that she has framed when she passes, I do have a bullet that they shot at your funeral I find someone to make it a necklace so i can wear it

I think I have chatted enough I will see you again and we will play and swing and we will have coffee and watch mattlock together god their is so much we need to do

I love you see you later
